Flight Path

They tell us that fall has arrived - we are not convinced. High temperatures and no frost belie the calendar. We are presently conducting field hunts, guided flighted duck hunts, driven shoots and the pursuit of wild game. Until the temperatures become more seasonable, we try to keep the dogs healthy by starting as early in the mornings as possible. The cover is very good and we look forward to a successful season afield.

The late autumn schedule is enclosed. In addition, the schedule is posted on the website calendar as well as the weekly email blast. If you are not receiving these notices or cannot access the website, please contact us.

The autumn is the busiest season of the year in the field and in the restaurant with the Thanksgiving weekend being the very busiest. Please make your reservations as early as your plans allow.
